

Santa and the SECRET ROOM

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

Synopsis: We arrived at the palace and went down the chimney and into the secret room. Although the room contained only statues, the princess was more worried than ever. Suddenly there was a sound at the door.

CHAPTER EIGHT

When we heard the sound at the door, Princess Anne sat up and blew out Santa's light. "Hide! We must hide!"

"Now, child," said Santa gently. "I do not think the king is as bad as you think. Let us greet him if this is he at the door."

"No, no! We must hide!" She pressed her fingers so fiercely into my arm I, too, became frightened. I expect Santa felt the same for he whispered, "Very well. Let's get behind the window curtains and watch from there."

Quickly we hid ourselves in the thick velvet curtains that covered the windows from ceiling to floor. It was easy to peep out from the deep folds of the curtains.

All this time there had been the strange scratching at the door. Now we heard a key turning in the lock. Slowly the door swung open and a hooded man shuffled into the room.

He held a lighted candle in his hand. He turned at the door and said, "Come, Whiskers. Walk briskly for who knows when you will walk again!"

"I looked down and saw a tiny kitten who would not move. At last the king picked it up and carried it to the table."

HE SWUNG THE HOOD back from his head and revealed his face and now I knew why the princess had been afraid. For though the face seemed kind enough, the darting eyes glittered strangely. "The princess is right! He is a king to fear!" I thought. I reached out to hold her hand. But she stood there staring at her father. Her hands were in tight fists and she seemed not to feel me at all.

Now the king opened a book. As he read directions from it, he took down bottles and jars from the shelves. Carefully he measured powders and liquids and ointments into a bowl. Then he stirred. As he stirred he talked to Whiskers, the cat.

He poured the liquids into a bowl

"This is Formula 23," he said with a twisted smile. "And you are lucky, Whiskers, because I think this will be the one that works and you will be the first Golden Cat."

The kitten crouched beside the bowl and meowed softly. "And after that," cried the king, "why, everything I touch with my secret mixture will turn to gold!"

He stirred his strange potion faster and faster. He beat it with a pestle and twirled it furiously under his thumbs. And all the time he talked to it, pleading with it, commanding it, to be the mixture he desired.

Finally, there was only a dust in the bowl. The king reached in with his hand and drew out a handful. Turning, he hurled the mixture into the kitten's eyes and cried, "Turn to gold, Whiskers! Turn to gold!"

THE KITTEN LEAPED back, shuddered violently and then, before our astonished eyes, turned, not to gold, but to stone.

At that very moment there was a cry at my side and Princess Anne flew out of the curtains and threw herself at the king.

"You're not my father! You're not the king!"

Before the startled creature could raise his hands she reached up with her fingers and tore at his face. Off the face came in her hands.

It was a mask of her father, the king.

Princess Anne turned away and pointed to the statue of a man standing behind her.

"This is my father," she moaned. "Like the kitten, you changed him to stone!"

College Administrator Quits Under Pressure

CINCINNATI (AP)—Fred Smith resigned Tuesday as administrator of the College-Conservatory of Music under pressure of students and faculty.

President Walter Schmidt said he accepted the resignation—effective Dec. 20—on behalf of school trustees "with the most sincere regret."

A meeting of 500 students and 40 faculty members Monday had unanimously demanded Smith resign because of his administrative policies.

Smith said in a letter to President Schmidt that he thought it best for the school and the city that he resign his post.

At Monday's meeting, students charged that Smith had coerced and intimidated both students and faculty to gain "complete control and dominance."

Smith said in a statement: "I think it would be superfluous to enter into any discussion or controversy at this time."

"It seems to me that all that I have done for the College of Music and the College-Conservatory of Music during the past 15 years should speak for itself."

Change Now

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Do you want to be a changed man in 1957? Well, now is the time to start removing your personality warts. Most people wait until New Year's Day to make their good resolutions.

On that day you are likely to be hypocritical, unfair to yourself. You don't see yourself in the right perspective. You are full of self-hate. You see a thousand things wrong with you, whereas—even a jury of those who really know you best probably wouldn't credit you with more than 750 character faults.

So what happens? You resolve to improve your conduct in 1,000 ways all at once. This is manifestly impossible, unless you lie down and die, which is certainly carrying self-improvement right out the window.

Unable to correct all your supposed 1,000 faults, you soon give up the struggle, saying "What's the use?" that leaves you with the hopeless feeling you have added the 1,001st defect to the list—You're a guy who can't keep a pledge.

The reason you should make your new year's resolutions right now is that you won't have to make so many. You have a Christ-massy feeling toward the world, and are full of goodwill. You don't see so many things about yourself that need changing, because you love yourself even as you do your neighbor. Maybe even more.

The danger here, of course, is that you may be full of so much goodwill you find yourself absolutely flawless. You can't think of a single way to change yourself for the better.

In this case you need the help of others. Here's what to do:

Take six sheets of paper and give one each to your closest friend, your oldest enemy, your mother, your boss, your favorite bartender and your wife. On second thought, maybe you'd better give your wife a loose-leaf notebook—or a tape recorder.

Next, ask each to write down what they think are your greatest faults and how you can make a better man of yourself in 1957. (This may result in your wife getting writer's cramp. But she won't mind. An opportunity like this doesn't come her way often.)

Then comes your big problem—weighing and interpreting the criticisms and suggestions. Here's how you got about it:

To start with, examine the list made by your closest friend. Whatever he has written down, it can be assumed is what the burn is saying about you behind your back. If you don't like his list, your first resolve should be to get a new friend, one you can trust not to be so honest.

The chances are your enemy merely has written down, "The best way to improve yourself in 1957 is to drop dead." Resist this temptation. To obey it will get you nowhere.

Instead, resolve to forgive your enemy. Go even further. Really bring him into your circle. Bind him to you. The best way to do this is to borrow money from him. Then he'll really have your interest at heart—and his principal.

Next take up the lists made by those who know you at your best and worst—your wife, mother and bartender. Naturally their lists will be long, and it would be impossible to correct in one lifetime all the things they know are wrong with you.

The thing to do is to check the defects that appear on all three lists, and resolve to correct them immediately. Certainly anything about you that offends your mother, wife and bartender needs your urgent attention.

Last, take the boss' list. If he merely has written, "Why, Joe, you're all right as you are," make a quick resolution to hit him for a raise on Jan. 2.

On the other hand, if he lists more than 10 of your bad habits, the odds are he suspects 10 more. You should resolve to look for a new job right away. There's enough trouble in life already without having to work for a boss you can't fool.

CLEVELAND (AP)—A shake-down ring of four boys, headed by a 14-year-old who fancied himself as an Adolf Hitler and forced his victims to lick his boots, were sentenced Tuesday to the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster.

To Set Up Priorities For Sewer Plant Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Priorities for municipalities eligible for federal grants for construction of sewage treatment facilities were listed Tuesday by the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board.

The board said state water pollution control agencies are to review applications for aid and establish priorities on the basis of "financial as well as water pollution control needs."

Grants may be up to 30 per cent of the cost of a project but may not exceed $250,000. Ohio's allocation is $1,633,000 for this year.

Sewage treatment plants and intercepting sewers may be included in such projects but not lateral and trunk sewers.

The allocation for Ohio will provide federal aid for only a portion of those cities ready to start construction by the deadline of this year's allocation, June 30, 1957.

The board set up this criteria for priorities:

1. All municipalities, whose permits from the board require them to build or expand sewage treatment works, are to be considered equal on the basis of need from the water pollution control viewpoint.

2. For computing financial needs, the board will use two factors equally—average family income of the community and cost per capita of the proposed sewage project.

First Satellites To Be Projected Jan. 1, 1958

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Joseph Kaplan, chairman of the U. S. National Committee for the International Geophysical year, says he believes the first of 12 artificial satellites will be projected into space about Jan. 1, 1958. He told an Ohio University audience that if six satellites are successful, "it will be a good percentage."

CITY WORKERS GET BONUS

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—It should be a merry Christmas for city employees here this year. City Council has voted a $25 Christmas bonus in the form of a December-only pay raise. In addition, Jan. 1 will see new pay raises go into effect. Hourly workers were hiked from a rate of $1.13 to $1.67.

But the unofficial total vote from other states was several points shy of the 66.7 per cent needed. Failure of the proposal means a corn acreage allotment program will go into effect nationally. There will not be another referendum until 1959.

Herter For Hoover

Foreign-policy critics who have been screaming that the United States should have zigged when it zagged are about to have their mouths taped shut temporarily.

The Eisenhower administration is using an old baseball trick to get its critics off its back.

It is going to hire a new field manager, Christian A. Herter, governor of Massachusetts.

To make room for Herter, Herbert Hoover Jr. is going to be waived out of the diplomatic league as undersecretary of state.

John Foster Dulles will continue to be general manager but will have acquired a successor.

And foreign-policy critics who have been second-guessing Mr. Dulles for not being able to stop brutality in Hungary, not being able to stop Britain, France, Israel, Egypt, the Soviet Union from fighting and not being able to secure permanent and lasting peace everywhere will be allowed to choke on their words, temporarily.

Gov. Herter will be able to do no better in the long run.

There have been seven secretaries of state since the current wave of ups and downs started in 1929 — Henry L. Stimson, Cordell Hull, Edward R. Stettinius Jr., James F. Byrnes, George C. Marshall, Dean G. Acheson and John Foster Dulles.

Not one of them has been able to patch up the battered world and make it well again. Every one of the seven has been under relentless attack by critics demanding the secretarial scalp.

If Gov. Herter becomes the eighth target of people who believe foreign policy fails when the world refuses to do what the United States wants it to do, there will be a price on his scalp, too.

If politicians and pundits could not scalp the secretary of state for all real and imaginary bloopers, what would they do for a living?

Key Assignment

John Foster Dulles is this week's "man of the hour."

The goings and comings of Secretary Dulles have been so numerous since 1953 that one more trip abroad hardly was noticeable.

But the trip he is taking this time would be a stand-out even if it did not mark renewal of his activity after a serious surgical operation. The North Atlantic Council is meeting in Paris with the foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. This will be the first occasion to review the differences of opinion which flared into a diplomatic and military explosion in the Middle East.

It will be the first chance for Secretary Dulles to meet representatives of governments that have been wondering if NATO and the United Nations, under whose charter NATO was formed, can withstand the clash over Franco-British action against Egypt.

At the climax of the presidential campaign, the foreign policy of the United States was under heavy attack by Democrats, who called it sterile and unimaginative. This made no impression on voters, but it may have made an impression on Britain, France and Israel. In any event, they discovered it was not sterile, not unimaginative and certainly not irrelevant.

A month after election day the United States is conceded to hold the diplomatic initiative so securely it has replaced the British and French as the dominant force in the Middle East. Secretary Dulles is filling the key assignment of his career in the North Atlantic Council meeting in Paris.

Pudding Prover

No one in his right mind is proposing that, the Bay City (Mich.) experiment with teacher aides to relieve the teacher shortage should be tried willy-nilly throughout the country, or that it is an all-around solution to the problem of how to train enough teachers to handle more pupils.

But after four years of trial, the Bay City plan is going to be continued with school board funds in the place where it originated — and everybody in his right mind will find significance in that.

The significance lies in the fact that no one has found a better way to deal with either an acute or a chronic teacher shortage. The Bay City plan provides accredited teachers with non-professional assistants so the teachers' professional training can be used to better advantage; i.e., to teach more pupils while the assistant does the time-consuming chore work.

Since this plan can stretch a teacher's professional services by as much as 50 per cent without increasing her actual work load and the assistant is willing to work for as little as half as much money, it is even more important to taxpayers than it is to administrators.

After four years of trial as a subsidized experiment of the Ford Fund for Advancement of Education, the plan will be kept in effect in Bay City by the people who have learned most about it. What stronger recommendation could be received than that?

Judge-Made Laws

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Tennessee Decision Points Up Menace To Unions

David Lawrence
so-called "peaceful picketing" may be banned hereafter by the action of a single federal judge in a community, acting under a broad injunction.

This means that in such a contingency anyone overturning an automobile or engaging in physical combat with a worker at the factory gates in the future could be hauled before a federal judge, deprived of a jury trial and sentenced to jail.

No law of Congress has authorized this, of course, and labor-union leaders have argued that the Norris-La Guardia Act was passed in 1932 to prevent just such use of the injunctive power.

But now, after the definition given by a federal judge in Tennessee as to what constitutes "interference" with a court order, the Norris-La Guardia Act can be held not to apply in cases of violence or threatened violence. Judge-made law, instead of Congress-made law, has reached a climax unprecedented in recent history.

THIS STRANGE TURN of events, which deprives a citizen of a jury trial for what has always been a state offense, sounds more like modern "federalism" than "modern republicanism."

It has come about through the order of a federal judge in Tennessee, aided and abetted by the Department of Justice in Washington.

When the other day the school board in Clinton, Tenn., complained that, while it was conforming to the Federal Court order forbidding segregation, there were disorders in the community outside the school building, the Department of Justice instructed its U.S. attorney in Knoxville, Tenn., to present evidence to the court, alleging that the court's injunction was being interfered with.

Sixteen citizens were ordered brought to court for a hearing on whether or not they were willfully interfering with the Federal Court's injunction. One of the counts charged was that some of the 16 persons attended a citizens' council meeting which expressed itself against "integration" in the schools.

One citizen who distributed inflammatory literature inside the courtroom when the hearing was held was, of course, within the jurisdiction of the court and subject to punishment.

BUT THE ACTION of most of the citizens arrested had not interfered with the school board's recent compliance with the court order. The school board, in fact, had announced that the schools were open to students of all races. The disorders that did occur later were between citizens who wanted to send their children to mixed schools and citizens who tried to prevent them from doing so. Anyone accused of this would normally be charged with a state offense.

The Supreme Court in the 1954 decision did not give the federal government the power to enforce school attendance or to punish individuals engaged in disorders in and around the school buildings or anywhere else in the community.

It did give the school boards themselves the protection of the court with respect to their own acts of compliance.

The Department of Justice, on the other hand, has taken the position that it must go along with the judge's broad injunction power and arrest anyone who "interferes" in any way with the integration process.

This is plainly in contradiction of the decision by a court of three federal judges in South Carolina in 1955, which held that the Supreme Court decision of 1954 did not "require" integration but merely forbade segregation.

The Department of Justice presumably is interpreting the 1954 decision of the Supreme Court to mean, however, that the whole enforcement power of the federal government must be placed behind the coercive process.

AS FOR LABOR UNIONS, they now are at the mercy of the federal judiciary, notwithstanding their long-held faith that the Congress has forbidden the use of injunctions in labor disputes. It could be argued now, however, that the Norris-La Guardia Act does not cover disputes between workers and non-workers.

This could mean that, to assure the "right to work," all that is necessary now is to get a federal judge to issue an injunction forbidding anyone to "interfere" with the ingress or egress of a worker at a factory gate or to threaten such a worker with any form of punishment. No trial by jury is necessary. The judge could put anyone in jail if the injunction is disobeyed.

There is, to be sure, a power of review by higher courts but it is evident that the federal judiciary arbitrarily has taken over some important problems of law enforcement which used to be under the exclusive jurisdiction of state and city governments.

Africans Drill For Steam

By E. A. COUGHLIN

LONDON
East African engineers are engaged on the world's strangest treasure-hunt—a search for steam in a sun-scorched arid section of Kenya, where water has to be carried miles in cans or dug for patiently in the parched, sandy soil.

If it is found, this sector may be able to dispense with oil and use the steam instead to drive power stations and provide water.

The hunt centers on a rugged, eerie valley known to generations of explorers and hunting parties as "Hell's Gate." In the waterless region of this country animals trek miles in search of water; frequently queue up on a true while knowledgeable elephants dig down for it.

But at "Hell's Gate" nature has provided a clue which the engineers are now following up. Near "Hell's Gate," otherwise known as the Rift Valley, thin jets of steam have long issued from minute cracks in the rock strata. The countryside is so hard up for water that farmers have driven miles regularly just to put condensing gadgets over the crevices and so get at least some vital water.

This opportunistic utilization of a natural handout by the alert farmers has worked and now scientific steam seekers are planning to put the lesson learned to practical use. The Egyptian imbroglio and the resultant cut down in oil supplies has given the quest added urgency.

An earlier and outstandingly successful use of subterranean steam by imaginative Italian experts is an encouragement to the steam-hunters. At Lardarello, Italy, harnessed volcanic steam provides electric power for much of industrial northern Italy, runs the electric railroad and has a fair percentage to spare for the nation as a whole.

Surveys here have shown that Hell's Gate has the same geological factors as Lardarello.

The "Hell's Gate" party plans to drill down 2,000 feet if necessary, until they strike a steam gusher. When this happens, they intend to utilize the steam to drive turbines so producing electricity and at the same time, by converting the steam back into water, irrigating a section of Africa long bothered by year-round droughts.

Agricultural experiments have meantime shown that the successful tapping of a big steam "gusher" could have another bearing on the future of this African zone.

Experimental tomato growing near "Hell's Gate" has already produced crops of 35 tons to the acre, an output that indicates this scorched valley could be one of the world's richest agricultural gardens if irrigated.

The Three Democratic Parties

By RAYMOND MOLEY

While Sam Rayburn lacks the philosophic depth and quaintness that distinguished his long-time colleague from Dallas, Hatton Sumners, the speaker understands the traditions of the House over which he presides. Consequently, he refused membership on a "broadly based" committee on congressional policy proposed by the Democratic National Committee's executive committee last month.

In declining membership for himself, Leader McCormack, Whip Albert and Congressional Campaign Committee Chairman Kirwan, the speaker said:

"In the House of Representatives we have 233 Democratic members. I fear if we took a position on an outside committee a great majority of these Democratic members would feel we were consulting with somebody else than the Democratic membership of the House.

"The leadership of the House consults constantly among themselves and with the chairmen of all the committees with reference to legislative programs.

"It is the considered opinion of the four of us that it would be a mistake for the Democratic leadership of the house to join in any program that would place us to work with any committee outside of the House of Representatives."

This somewhat complicated statement means that the House of Representatives is a coordinate body that cannot be identified with any party organization which will lessen its responsibility for its own actions.

There may be an immediate reason for this position of Rep. Rayburn and his fellow officers other than the traditional independence of the House. After the election, Rep. Rayburn and Senate Majority Leader Johnson announced that they would have no specific Democratic program this year.

Following that, there was a declaration of a group of northern "liberal" senators that they would press for civil rights and other legislation.

The Rayburn-Johnson leadership above all wants no new war within the party on that or any other issue. Hence the disinclination of Speaker Rayburn to get into a position in which he might be bound by the action of a committee of the National Committee on which he would surely be outvoted.

But the position he takes is in line with the long traditions and customs of Congress. There are, in fact, three Democratic parties. One is represented by the National Committee; the others, by the party caucuses of the two houses.

The Democratic National Committee and the convention it calls are responsible for the nomination of the presidential and vice presidential candidates and with their efforts to get elected.

The Democratic membership of the two houses depend upon their own efforts as individuals, or on their campaign committees, to get themselves elected.

The National Committee is extremely parsimonious in giving money toward the election of members of Congress. In one campaign the total amount was $15,000.

In pursuing this tradition the Democrats in the House will be much more united this year than their fellow partisans in the Senate. For in the Senate there are relatively more "liberals" like Sens. Humphrey, Douglas, Morse, and Murray, who will be the spearhead of the attack upon the conservatives of the South in the years to come.

So far as Democratic conservatism is concerned, its home will be in the House. And, despite his occasional tributes to "liberalism," the honorable speaker must mind his step lest he have a conservative revolt in his own household.

Cupid Outsmarts Ives

By CURTIS CASEY

WASHINGTON
Cupid is one of the prime reasons for the acute shortage of nurses in the United States.

So says Miss Julia Thompson, registered nurse and Washington representative of the American Nursing Association. Romance is going to get in the way of Sen. Irving M. Ives in his attempts to solve the nursing lack, she predicts.

Sen. Ives has announced that in the next session of Congress, about mid-January, he will reintroduce a joint resolution to establish a U.S. Academy of Nursing. His resolution was introduced in the last Congress in July, too late in the session to receive official attention.

Under the Ives proposal, the federal government would set up a nursing school, close to some large military medical center. Young women would be given three years training without cost to them but in return would promise to give three years as graduate nurses to some one of the branches of the armed services.

After this, Sen. Ives said, many might retire from military duty and go into the civilian pool of nurses and help relieve, if not end the chronic shortage of nurses. "Uncle Sam does a lot to educate young men but very little for young women," Sen. Ives commented.

Miss Thompson doubts the plan will work.

"All power to Sen. Ives in trying to solve the nurse shortage," Miss Thompson said, "but I'm afraid he is overlooking a detail or two. Does Sen. Ives expect these young women to stay single for six years?"

"Now about one-third of all girls who enter training as nurses, drop out before completing their courses—to get married. This is one of the big, if not the biggest reasons for the scarcity of trained nurses."

"What does Sen. Ives think will happen, when about 250 young women, between the ages of 18 and 24 years are placed among thousands of young men of marriageable age? We will have to find some scheme for changing young men and women, I guess."

Sen. Ives knows of Miss Thompson's doubts, but intends to introduce his joint resolution in the hope that Congress might outwit cupid. Comment on whether or not it could was withheld.

President For A Day

By JERRY KLEIN

Dwight D. Eisenhower may serve as President for the next four years but will Rep. Sam Rayburn technically be our President on Jan. 20, 1957?

Some say he will. For according to the 20th constitutional amendment, President Eisenhower's first term runs out on Jan. 20, at noon, and he won't be publicly inaugurated for his second term until noon on Jan. 21. Public Law 199 says that in such a case, the presidency falls on the speaker of the House of Representatives—in this case Mr. Rayburn.

Why the one-day lag between the end of the President's first term and the official start of the second? It's all because, in 1957, Jan. 20 happens to be a Sunday, and the government transacts no public business on Sunday, not even the inauguration of chief executives.

Congress overlooked this point last February, when it approved a routine resolution setting Jan. 20 for the next presidential inauguration. But Sen. Theodore F. Green later realized the mistake which had been made.

"Of course, I have no objection to having Sam Rayburn occupy the White House," he declared, "I only regret that his term of office would be so short-lived!"

Sen. Green also pointed to the similar case of President Zachary Taylor, who was supposed to be inaugurated on March 4, 1849. This also fell on a Sunday and so Mr. Taylor's inauguration was put off till noon the following day.

"This occasion gave rise to a claim, apparently never resolved, that Sen. David R. Atchison, president pro tempore of the Senate, was actually President of the United States for one day, beginning at noon on March 4, 1849."

The "president for a day" described his short term of office as follows: "We had been hard at work in the Senate finishing up business, and having lost much sleep, I probably would have slept all day had I not been awakened up by some personal friends who came to congratulate me and to secure positions for certain parties."

"In order to do everything in proper style, I appointed a full cabinet. And it was said my administration was the most successful and popular one ever known, there not being a removal or an appointment during my entire term!"

Born in Kentucky, Sen. Atchison was a tall, 200-pound "convivial bachelor" who had studied law at Transylvania University in Lexington. Moving west, he was elected to the Missouri legislature and entered the Senate in 1843, serving until 1855. Atchison, Kans., was named for him.

Once Over

Report On Eating Out

Washington reports that more people eat out today than ever before, and that 20 per cent of all money spent for food goes to restaurants. This can mean nothing more than that home cooking is getting increasingly rough.

We are in the age of the "quickie" home meal. The hastily whipped up dinner is on the increase. The "warm-up-and-serve" or heat-and-run mood prevails in countless homes.

The fact more people are eating out than ever indicates a husband's revolt. They may be refugees from the "anything-goes" motif in the family kitchen.

THE YOUNG WIFE and mother of today wants no part of her Mother's and Grandmother's devotion to pots and pans. Her kitchen has become loaded with labor-saving devices mother never knew.

She can buy a prepackaged dinner and flip it to Daddy after a brief moment in a hot oven. But it has weakened her capacity for solitude and her desire for fireside applause. Husbands are crying, "Let's eat out tonight," in self protection.

The food at some restaurants may not be any better, but the catsup is more plentiful.

ALL OF WHICH brings us around to the comment that too many public eating places are no bargain. There are thousands of lunchrooms where the chef appears to have learned his trade on a Gowanus Canal barge. It's a wonder seagulls don't swarm over the doors.

The standard joke about such spots is, "Should we ask for the bicarb before the meal or after?"

These chefs operate almost entirely in the grease-pan-hot-flame-and-who-asked-you? routine.

We are not saying there aren't excellent restaurants in all communities.

We are merely recording the observation that there has been an amazing increase in eating - places that function under the impression there is no difference between the stomachs of human beings and the stomachs of dronedaries.

THERE ARE FINE restaurants that carry a seal of approval by Duncan Woiziss, but a need of the times is for some agency which can affix a seal of disapproval... something like a tablet reading: "The seal of approval staff ate here once and left buckety-buckety."

It seems to us that good food began to go out extensively with the arrival of the frankfurter, the cheeseburger, and the roadside beef stew. But an even greater influence for evil was the french fried potato. Not that we are a french fried enemy. But why must it be the only type bothered with in tens of thousands of lunchrooms and cheap restaurants?

Why can't a customer ask for hashed brown, baked, mashed, boiled, etc., without getting dirty looks from the staff? We pause for a reply... and what'll we get? — french fries as usual!

DINAH SHORE has more bounce than any TV performer... The gal projects the idea that she is having fun every second... We got a laugh out of George Gobel's crack when, after Dinah had seemed to swoon from his kiss, he piped, "I forgot to warn you about the fall-out."

Nehru says he hesitates to believe the reds deport Hungarians... This is what is known as an "abstention" in the issue of a drowning man and a life guard.

A singer at a N. Y. Traffic Cops Ball was recognized as a scowllow who had ignored 53 traffic summonses... He was fined and sentenced to jail... The irony is that just before the cops seized him he sang "Love Me Tender."

Report Allies Seek Talks With Egypt

PARIS (AP) — Western diplomats say Britain and France are seeking an early meeting with Egypt to settle the Suez Canal controversy.

The two Western powers were said to have indicated clearly at the current NATO meeting here that they now will accept less than full international control of the waterway.

Britain, France, the United States and 15 other nations previously have backed a plan calling for creation of an international authority to run the canal. Egypt rejected the international control, saying it would infringe on Egyptian sovereignty.

The willingness of the two powers to make a fresh approach to the problem was reported after British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau discussed the canal issue in separate meetings with Dulles.

Japan, Russia End Second World War

TOKYO (AP) — Japan and the Soviet Union formally ended World War II today — 11 years and 4 months after Russian soldiers marched south into Manchuria in the final week of fighting. The two nations reopened diplomatic relations.

The agreement, largely on Soviet terms, leaves Russia in possession of Japanese territory occupied after Japan surrendered but gives Japan promise of Soviet support for admission to the United Nations and release of thousands of war prisoners.

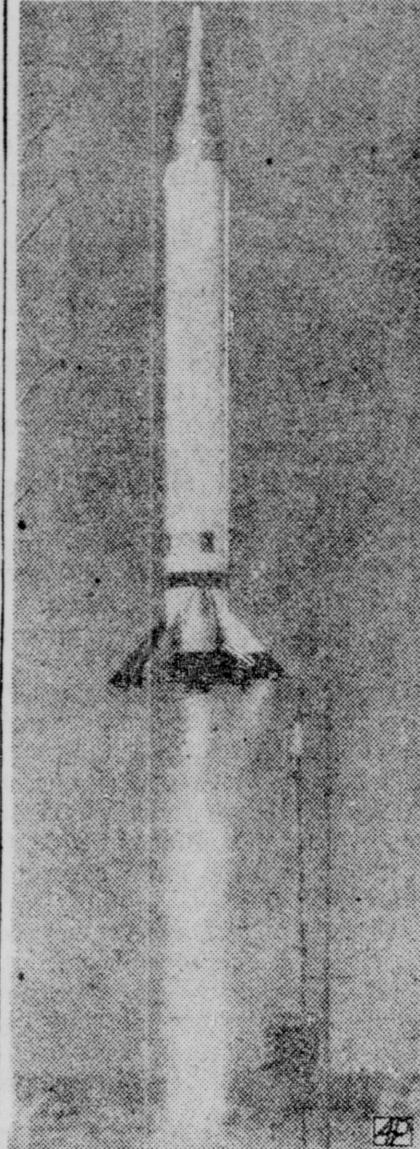

Soviet Vice Foreign Minister Nicolai Fedorenko and Japanese Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu exchanged documents ratifying the peace agreement signed in Moscow Oct. 19.

Mahoning Scout Goals Outlined

Meeting at Camp Stambaugh recently, members of the operating committees and executive board of the Mahoning Valley Boy Scout Council set the goal of 6,138 Scouts, Cubs and Explorers for 1957.

This was the third annual planning session held by the Council leaders. It was headed by Robert Renner, vice president of the Council. The objectives, as outlined by William Storey, chairman of the organization and extension committee, are an 11 per cent jump in membership for 1957. Storey pointed out that Council membership a year ago was 4,857. Storey's committee visualized 204 packs, troops and posts by the end of 1957, compared to 180 units in 1956.

G. Taylor Evans, president of the Council, announced that one of the Council's vice presidents will meet each month with district chairmen during 1957 to check on progress toward the new goal.

Henry E. Katschke, Council Scout Executive, announced a budget of $83,400 for 1957.

Doll-Making Hobby Cheers Salem Woman And Others

By PEARL WALKER

A hobby can stimulate your health and also bring happiness to others.

That is the opinion of Mrs. E. A. Hoch, 75, of 1126 E. Tenth St. who discovered five years ago during a severe illness that making dolls for other people not only helped her but was a means of cheering other people.

Since that time her nimble fingers and artistic ability have combined for a total output of 200 dolls.

Mrs. Hoch is believed to be the only Salem woman to make dolls which have gone all over the nation. Some of her dolls have cheered patients in hospitals. Others have gone to make happy little girls in Germany, Finland and Puerto Rico.

Dolls that disguise toasters and mixers make a bright spot in the kitchen. These dolls have either white or black faces and are dressed in colorful prints and wear white organdy aprons trimmed in braid. While the head is stamped on the material, Mrs. Hoch has her own ideas about making faces and these are frequently changed from the original patterns. Very few of the dolls have the same expression. The features are embroidered and the cheeks are colored with rouge. The hair is made of colored wool yarn and styled to the artist's taste. Sometimes a ribbon or flower is added to the doll's coiffure, or she may wear a bonnet or hat to harmonize with her gown.

Bodies of all the dolls are made from unbleached muslin. They are stuffed with cotton. Stockings are made from fine ribbed hose and the shoes are fashioned from felt.

Among her character dolls are Little Red Riding Hood, Raggedy Ann and Andy, Sunbonnet Sue, Davy Crockett, Godeys, a Spanish Lady, and a Quaker; also dolls representing various states.

Another novelty made by Mrs. Hoch are cuddling rabbits for tiny tots. These have embroidered faces and are dressed in gay colored corduroy overalls and bright shirts. Mrs. Hoch is the mother of the Misses Ruth and Jeanette Hoch, who are active in church and civic work.

Sees Science Math Overemphasized Now

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Dr. A. L. Strand, president of Oregon State College, says the heavy emphasis on science and mathematics in colleges is getting out of hand.

The whole country is so science-minded and there are such powerful forces behind this emphasis there is a danger of overdoing it, he told the Oregon State Board of Higher Education Tuesday.

"This whole philosophy of emphasizing science and mathematics . . . is out of balance because the deficiency in other teaching fields is equally great," Dr. Strand said.

Pennsylvanians Seek To Buy Ohio Tracks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Daniel Parrish of Pittsburgh was expected in Cleveland today to talk about buying two race tracks for a group of western Pennsylvania businessmen.

Parrish said in Pittsburgh Tuesday he expected to be in Cleveland today to discuss purchase of Randall Park race track near here and Painesville trotting track in adjoining Lake County. "I hope to close the transaction," said Parrish, "but I'm not at all sure that it will be closed."

Meanwhile, in Miami, Fla., Saul Silberman, principal owner of the two tracks, denied a report by the Cleveland News that he is sending his legal representative to Cleveland to complete a deal for sale of the two tracks.

Silberman said he has been negotiating for sale of the tracks for two years. "But I'll tell you this," said Silberman, "if those tracks are sold, the price will be at least a million dollars more than the $2,800,000 figure quoted in the Cleveland News story."

Parrish said his group has been negotiating for the tracks for several months. He said the group includes Art Rooney, owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League.

Attacks Plan To Develop Route 18

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sharp issue with a state highway department plan to develop Ohio 18, a route which roughly parallels the Ohio Turnpike, was taken Tuesday by a turnpike commission member.

Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler (USA Ret.) told Highway Director S. O. Linnell during a commission meeting:

"If you maintain parallel roads which are free, the turnpike will go bankrupt in two years. I am not taking any definite position on this matter now, but it requires further study."

The Republican commission member pointed out it is costing almost all of the commission's income to operate the turnpike this year.

The commission agreed unanimously to sell its abandoned headquarters building in Columbus to the state highway department for $275,000, providing the state controlling board will release the funds to buy it. The price is an estimated $85,000 less than the commission has invested in it.

Seven Men Cleared Of Flogging Negro

BUSHNELL, Fla. — Seven white men were cleared today of charges of flogging Jesse Woods, 39-year-old Negro who had been forcibly taken from nearby Wildwood Jail.

The men were cleared on a directed verdict by Circuit Judge T. G. Futch after State Atty. A. P. Buie himself asked that four of the men be freed.

Wood, a farm laborer, was arrested Oct. 27 on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Arresting officers reported that the Negro said, "Hello there, babe," to a white school teacher.

Wood testified at the trial that he was released on bond and asked to be placed back in jail because white men were following him.

He related that he was forced from the jail, taken east of Wildwood, kicked, beat on the shoulder by both ends of belts and struck by fists.

Officials

Greenstein, who was elected to a four-year term expiring in January, 1959, will not be eligible for the pay raise during his present term.

The other two commissioners, W. A. Southan and W. A. Hunston, will benefit from the pay increase in 1957 when they begin their new terms of office. Southan and Hunston were re-elected in the Nov. 6 general election.

The treasurer's salary will not change until the first Monday of September, 1957, when Vincent C. Judge starts his new term. He was also re-elected in the general election in November.

The auditor's salary of $8,311 consists of $7,031 paid by the county, plus $1,280 paid by the state for the auditor's duties as agent of the tax commission in inheritance tax matters.

The judges of probate and common pleas courts received salary increases when their new terms began, and therefore cannot receive the new salary increases during their current terms, except Judge Raymond Buzzard who will receive the increased salary when he starts his term of office in January in the newly created common pleas court for Columbiana County.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin began his new term in February, 1955 and Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp started his term in January, 1953. Both terms are for six years, and the judges receive a salary of $12,435.20 of which $4,000 is paid by the state. Judge Raymond Buzzard will receive $13,035.20 when he takes over court-room No. 2 and $5,000 of that will be paid by the state.

The new pay scale will go into effect Jan. 7, 1957 for commissioners Southan and Hunston, Coroner Ernest Sturgis, Sheriff-Elect Russell J. VanFossan, Clerk of Courts John W. Coleman, Engineer Charles O. Snyder, Prosecutor - Elect G. William Brokaw, and the county recorder, Mrs. Frances Morton.

School Vote

He said by drastic paring the schools could probably continue to operate classes for the full year, but the high school opportunities would be reduced below what was considered satisfactory for a first grade high school.

The report continued: "Your elementary pupils would suffer if you increased the size of the classes in that the teacher's time per pupil would be very limited. This is particularly hard on slow learners, and perhaps equally as serious for those children who have the ability to do more than average."

"If such a reduction is made, it would be necessary to eliminate kindergarten, to drop commercial and other vocational subjects in high school, and to increase your elementary grades to from 40 to 45 pupils per teacher."

"Needless to say, such a contraction of the educational program would put your children in a serious disadvantage in comparison to the children in other school districts."

Darling said a board of education is actually violating the law when it allows expenditures to exceed income.

He declared Lisbon has $7,000 back of each child in tax funds while the average in Ohio approaches $10,000 and many of the larger exempted villages and smaller cities have as much as $15,000 per child.

Darling reported he did not think the Lisbon school operating costs excessive considering the number of buildings and the nature of the high school building. He said that it would appear to be necessary to get the present operation on a sound pay-as-you-go basis before the board can hope to achieve any enlargement of the school district.

He urged the board in dealing with the public to take the residents fully into their confidence, and explain what ought to be done to maintain good progressive schools and the cost.

An 8-mill school operating levy was defeated at the November election 1,101 to 1,378.

A 60 per cent majority is necessary to pass the proposed levy. In November a bare majority would have passed it.

Many of the local teachers announced their intention of resigning from their teaching posts here following the defeat of the levy in November.

The special election will cost the school district approximately $1,100 the County Election Board said today in response to a query. The district is comprised of 9 precincts — 6 in the village and 3 in Center Township.

Estimates of the cost include $900 for pay of precinct personnel, $108 for rental of polling places, $50 for transportation, and $25 for incidentals.

All the expenses will be charged against the school district except the poll books. The county pays for the poll books because they are considered a permanent record.

If the levy had been scheduled for a vote at the primary, the district probably would have been charged only for the ballots used in the six Lisbon precincts. It would have been required to pay all the usual expenses in the township area, because no primary would be in progress there.

Lisbon voters also will ballot in November on the renewal of a 2-mill operating levy which expires this year.

Police Halt Disturbance By Met Opera Lovers

NEW YORK — Police were called to the Metropolitan Opera House lobby Tuesday night to quell a disturbance by some 200 opera-goers protesting the last-minute cancellation of an appearance by Maria Meneghini Callas.

The American-born prima donna had been scheduled to sing the title role in Donizetti's opera, "Lucia di Lammermoor." Sidelined by a throat infection, she was replaced shortly before curtain time by Dolores Wilson, an American soprano.

News of the switch caused some 200 avid Callas fans to storm the box office, demanding a refund. Turned down by opera officials, they began demonstrating.

Police were summoned when the protest continued after the first curtain was raised. Four patrolmen dispersed the demonstrators.

Opera officials said it was not their policy to make refunds unless the advertised opera was changed.

Rebellion Seen Possible In East Germany

PARIS — West Germany warned the North Atlantic Council today there is grave danger of East Germany following Hungary into rebellion against Moscow's domination — and NATO had better decide what to do if the revolt comes.

West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano sought the advice of the other 14 NATO partners as the foreign, defense and finance ministers of the alliance met in the Chailot Palace for the second day of their annual session.

Von Brentano put this problem before the allies:

Any revolt in East Germany would generate strong pressure among the West German public to rush some form of aid rather than stand by and see the lives of other Germans snuffed out.

The West German government obviously fears it would be unable to restrain some West German elements from crossing the border to aid the Germans to the east, and that this would provoke retaliations from the Russians.

School Choruses' Vesper Program Set

The Salem High School Choral Department will present its 11th annual Christmas vesper program Sunday afternoon at 3:30 in the school.

The program of Christmas and seasonal music will be presented by the 88-voice freshman chorus, the 41-voice Girls Glee Club, and the Robed Choir of 90 voices.

A highlight will be the candle-light procession of 220 students, and carol singing by the choirs and audience combined.

The program is open to the public.

Students of the choral department also will appear on the program at the Kiwanis Club meeting Thursday noon in the Memorial Building.

The kidnapping followed the seizure last weekend of a large cache of explosives and ammunition being smuggled into Port Said and an attempted ambush of a British patrol.

Egyptian authorities disclaimed responsibility for the incidents. Informants said they were the work of members of the fanatic Moslem brotherhood in Port Said. They said the secret terror organization, outlawed by the government two years ago, was attempting to embarrass President Nasser.

Driver Is Cited After Road Mishap

Four people escaped injury in a chain reaction mishap on Rt. 45, two miles south of Salem, Tuesday at 12:05 p.m.

A truck driven by Lisle Gallagher, 34, of East Liverpool, struck Neumeister's auto in the rear, driving it into the rear of Wial's car, which, in turn, hit Cufick's car.

Gallagher was cited for reckless operation.

2 E. Liverpool Men Are Sued For $20,000

LISBON — Two East Liverpool men were named defendants in two damage suits, totaling $20,000, filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday.

Wesley J. Wilson and his wife, Esther Mae, of Wellsville seek the amount from Climmie Robinson, and Nick Manfredi as the result of a traffic mishap in East Liverpool Nov. 24.

Mrs. Wilson asks $15,000 for injuries sustained in the mishap, and her husband seeks $5,000 for the loss of the services of his wife.

The petition claims that the car driven by Robinson struck the auto operated by Manfredi, driving it into the plaintiff's car.

Lisle C. Gallagher, 34, of East Liverpool was fined $25 and costs, and Joseph A. Charnovich Jr. of Briar Hill, Pa., forfeited a $20 bond.

Gallagher was cited by the state highway patrol and Charnovich by village police.

Soviet Influence Seen In Every Aspect of Red China's Development

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another in a series of stories on life in Communist China as observed by Canadian reporter David Lancashire during a 5,500-mile tour.

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
PEIPING—The influence of Soviet Russia is evident in every aspect of Red China's development.

This is seen everywhere—from the posters on the walls to trademarks on machinery.

But while there are plenty of Russians in China, they do not mingle socially with the ordinary Chinese.

China has leaned heavily on the Soviet Union in her expansion program.

"We have followed Russia and patterned ourselves after her, but we have not followed her blindly," said a Foreign Office official.

"We have adapted and molded the Soviet system to meet our own needs; but we have also made note of her mistakes and tried to avoid them."

China's first motor vehicles, the big four-ton trucks from the assembly lines at Changchun in the Northeast, were designed in the Soviet Union and put together with Russian machinery.

The still-secret jet planes from the Russian-built and closely guarded factory at Wuchang on the Yangtze are being produced under Soviet supervision. They're close copies of Russian aircraft.

Almost every factory manager in the Northeast prefaces his explanations with the approved phrase: "Thanks to the selfless generosity of the Soviet Union..."

But as a slight illustration of the Chinese determination to follow their own path, the qualifying words are added: "And under the correct leadership of Chairman Mao and the Communist party..."

The hotels, or "guest houses," in all the industrial centers are packed with Russian engineers and technologists. They are supervising factory construction or installation of machinery, or instructing Chinese workers.

'Accident-Prone' Drivers Attacked

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Automobile Assn. reported Tuesday it would back a "positive" legislative program aimed at removing the "accident-prone driver" from the highways.

J. Russell Lloyd, association secretary, said the group's board of trustees, backed by some half million members, had approved a report of its highway and legislative committees calling for support of such a program.

He said the big stake of Ohio motorists in the coming session of the Legislature is indicted by committee reports that more than a score of proposals likely to affect car owners and operators can be expected.

He said the association will support further strengthening of the financial responsibility law, that it "favors protecting the good driver by taking dangerous drivers off the highways." The automobile association, he said, "is not satisfied by letting them (the dangerous drivers) only pay for the damage they have done."

Ike To Conclude His Vacation Thursday

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—This is President Eisenhower's last full day of vacation plus work at this favorite Dixie retreat.

Thursday afternoon he will fly back to Washington, ending a 2½-week stay at the Augusta National Golf Club.

Aides pictured the President as thoroughly refreshed and feeling fine at near the close of this longest of 11 visits to Augusta since he was elected in 1952.

He appeared refreshed and in good trim Tuesday when reporters got their second look at him since he arrived here Nov. 26. The first time was on Dec. 2 when he attended church.

The occasion Tuesday was Eisenhower's nine-hole round of golf with Canada's Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent — a match in which they were pitted against each other in team play and came out "all even."

The 74-year-old Prime Minister flew here from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where he had vacationed for 10 days, on his way back to his home in Ottawa. He was in Augusta about 4½ hours.

COUNCILMAN KILLED

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—George C. Hahn, a Fairview Park councilman, was killed Tuesday when his car and a truck collided on Ohio 44 north of here.

Hahn, former head of Cleveland's civilian defense auxiliary police, was board chairman of the Cleveland Coal Club. Winner of several philatelic awards, he wrote the book, "Famous American Series of Postage Stamps."

IT IS REPORTED from Italy that the two Americans above are among prelates being considered by Pope Pius XII for elevation to the rank of cardinal. They are Msgr. John Joseph Mitty, left, Archbishop of San Francisco, and Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, Auxiliary Bishop of New York. It is thought that the Pope may call a consistory to fill the 10 vacant posts in the College of Cardinals early next year.

UAW To Seek Biggest Raise In Its History

CHICAGO (AP)—Walter Reuther has set "the biggest wage increase in the history of our union" as the United Auto Workers' target in 1958.

The UAW president didn't describe the goal in dollars and cents, but spoke Tuesday night in general terms of drafting "the most ambitious" program ever drawn by the 1,500,000 member union.

Reuther addressed the fifth annual UAW Skilled Trades Conference.

Another UAW spokesman said the wage increase demands will be aimed at the aircraft and farm equipment industries as well as the automobile industry.

Accident Prone Locations In Ohio Listed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Highway Safety Department issued a report Tuesday which might have been entitled: "Some road intersections to bypass."

The report concerned "accident prone" locations in Ohio.

Fifty-eight intersections are listed as places where a number of accidents have occurred during the first nine months of this year.

The No. 1 rural highway "trouble spot" was listed as the junction of Georgesville road and U.S. 40 at the western limits of Columbus. Previous reports by the department show that the intersection had 14 accidents with seven injuries in 1954 to rank seventh in the state, and 27 accidents with 34 injuries in 1955 to rank second. In the first nine months of 1956, the number of accidents at this location are within five of equalling the total number of accidents for all 12 months of 1955.

There is a traffic light at the intersection, but the junction is in a traffic-congested area, especially at peak traffic times, because of industrial plants in the area.

The junction of Ohio 254 and 57 south of Lorain ranks second in the state with 18 accidents and 19 injuries during the January-September period. Third on the list is the junction of Ohio 8 and 224 east of Akron with 18 accidents and five injuries.

Accident prone locations are tabulated for rural state highways only, and among the places listed, only two intersections had fatalities.

The junction of Ohio 306 and U.S. 20 west of Mentor in Lake County recorded two traffic deaths 16 accidents and 15 injuries to rank sixth in the state. The junction of Ohio 741 and 725 east of Miamisburg in Montgomery County recorded one traffic death, 11 accidents and 16 injuries to rank 29th.

Major League Owners Okay Signing Of College Players

Minors Receive Helping Hand

Rosters Must Be Cut By Opening Game

By JERRY LISA
CHICAGO (AP)—Major league club owners, in a surprisingly brief winter meeting, extended a helping hand to the minor leagues and loosed a swift kick at college baseball.

The owners Tuesday concluded their Chicago conclave a day ahead of schedule by:

1. Setting a 28-player limit per club for opening day which will hustle as many as 64 players to an April minor league start.

2. Rescinding a rule banning the signing of a collegiate player after he has reached his sophomore year. The rule prevailed three years.

The latter action brought a howl of protest from collegiate baseball coaches who depicted it an obvious move to steal talent from campus diamonds.

Commissioner Ford Frick explained that the old rule was unworkable because the minor leagues never agreed to any collegiate restriction and the majors could sign college players "through the back door."

The minors can sign a collegian for $4,000, but by devious approach, a big league team previously could "make an arrangement" with a collegiate star through its minor league affiliate regardless of his year in college.

Ethan Allen of Yale, president of the American Assn. of College Baseball Coaches, said at New Haven, Conn., that college coaches realized the rule was doomed by "grapevine" reports at the minor league convention in Jacksonville, Fla., last week.

"We did not come to Chicago after we learned the majors had instructed their minor league representatives at Jacksonville to vote against the rule even before we made representation," Allen said.

Allen, former star outfielder for the New York Giants and Cincinnati Redlegs, said the new major league policy will prevent many athletes from completing their college education.

The major league club owners adopted all measures passed by the minors at Jacksonville. This comparative "love-feast" at Chicago also ended with a dearth of action on the trading mart.

The two deals completed centered around the Chicago Cubs. After a 10-player deal with the St. Louis Cardinals, featuring the swap of pitchers Sam Jones and Tom Poholsky, the Cubs purchased catcher Charlie Silvera from the New York Yankees for $10,000.

In agreeing to trim their rosters to 28 players by opening day, the major league owners did a big service to minor league clubs whose lineups previously have remained in a state of flux well into the season. Now they will get a windfall of between 50 and 64 good players in April.

A second attempt by Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians to get approval of his inter-league schedule plan was turned down by the National League. Earlier, the American League rejected it.

Hawks, Knicks, Set NBA Scoring Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Hawks and New York Knickerbockers racked up a National Basketball Assn. single game record of 285 points Tuesday night as the Hawks—who had lost six straight—defeated the Knicks 137-128.

The St. Louis victory brought a five game New York winning streak to a screeching halt. Bob Pettit notched 41 of the total Hawk score and Harry Gallatin snared 22 for New York.

The combined team total in the second game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader was one point higher than the record established by Boston and Philadelphia last February.

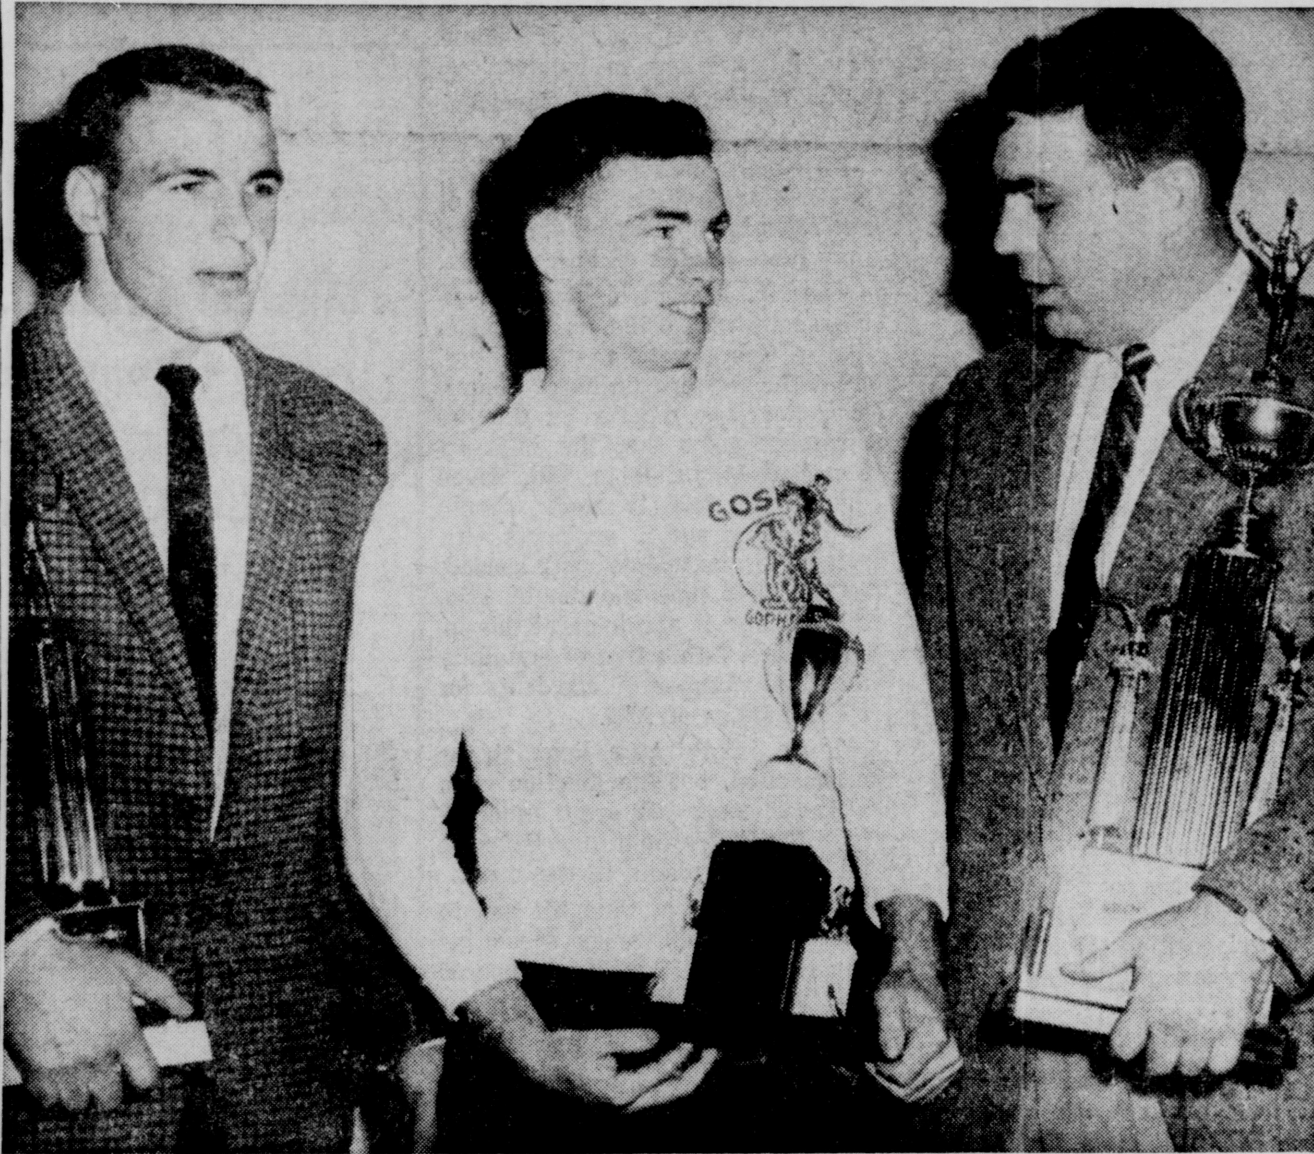

In the opener of the twinbill, the Boston Celtics, sparked by Tom Heinsohn and Bob Cousy, finished fast to overwhelm the Fort Wayne Pistons, 113-97. Heinsohn had 34 points, Cousy 24. Boston now holds a 4½-game eastern division lead over second-place New York.

In Philadelphia, the champion Warriors turned back a late Minneapolis rally and defeated the Lakers 114-111. League scoring leader Paul Arizin tallied 30 points or the winners. The Lakers slipped into the western cellar, 15-percentage points beneath the Hawks.

Goshen Union Football Team Gets Awards

The Goshen Union High School Gophers captured two titles this season for outstanding play on the football field. The team was awarded both the Mahoning County Class B trophy and the Inter-County award at a dinner meeting of the Inter-City Athletic Association Monday night.

Included in the inter-county league are teams from schools in McDonald, Jackson-Milton, North Lima, Greenford, Goshen, Canfield, Lowellville, Berlin Center, and Springfield.

Bears, Lions In Key Game

Chicago Must Win To Capture Title

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears, who only a month ago were being compared with some of the great football teams of the past, must beat the Detroit Lions Sunday for their first divisional title in 10 years or be relegated to another second place finish.

And second place finishes are becoming a habit with the Bears. Since winning the National Football League championship in 1946, the Bears have finished second six times.

Despite being anything but impressive in their last three games, the Bears are listed even money against the Lions who have aspirations of becoming the first team to rise from last place to first place in one year.

The Bears were completely outplayed by New York three weeks ago but managed to gain a 17-17 tie when Harlon Hill made a pair of spectacular second-half touchdown catches.

Following this game, the Bears went to Detroit and were nailed by the Lions, 42-10. Last Sunday they had their hands full with the Chicago Cardinals and came out ahead 10-3 only after two long touchdown runs by Cardinal star Gailie Matson were nullified by penalties.

Why this sudden letdown by a team that looked unbeatable a month ago? Injuries is one answer.

First they lost rookie scatback Perry Jeter because of a broken ankle and then Bobby Watkins was sidelined with a bad knee. With the loss of two "outside" threats, opposing teams concentrated on Rick Casares, the league's leading ground gainer.

The Giants held Casares to 13 yards and the Lions allowed him 45 yards.

In a move of desperation, the Bears switched J. C. Caroline from defense to offense in the Cardinal game and it paid off. J. C. gained 68 yards. He picked up three important first downs in a 55-yard touchdown drive and then barreled into the end zone in what was the deciding score.

With Caroline's outside speed a threat, the Cards were forced to open up and as a result Casares barged through the middle, rolling up 117 yards.

Wilson Defeats Lowry In Welterweight Bout

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Welterweight Al Wilson of Englewood, N. J., outpointed Pat Lowry of Toledo in a 10-round bout at the arena Tuesday night.

Brown's 43 Points Judged '56 Outstanding Performance

NEW YORK (AP)—All-America Jimmy Brown's record 43 points for Syracuse against Colgate has been judged the outstanding one game performance by a player in the 1956 college football season.

Despite the heavy support received by the senior halfback, Brown won by only a narrow margin over Illinois' Abe Woodson for his great day against Michigan State.

The balloting was part of the annual Associated Press post-season grid survey.

In the Syracuse regular-season finale, Brown, a 212-pounder from Manhassey, N. Y., rang up six touchdowns and seven conversions as the Orangemen defeated Colgate 61-7.

Never before had a player on a major college team scored as many points against a major opponent.

Brown's scoring spurts ranged from a pair of 1-yard plunges to a 50-yard breakaway, plus dashes of 8, 15, and 19.

His 197 rushing yards compiled on 22 carries enabled Brown to run his season's total to 986—a school record.

Woodson, a 185-pound halfback from Chicago, was the man who fashioned a headline-making 20-13 upset over Michigan State.

Woodson took over after Michigan State had built an apparently comfortable 13-0 halftime lead.

In the final 15 minutes, with the score tied 13-13, Woodson—Big Ten hurdling champion—took a screen pass, broke away from one defender and raced 82 yards to score, leaping over a would-be blocker near the Spartan 30.

Woodson had scored from the 2 early in the third period and tied the count with a 70-yard burst off tackle.

Johnny Majors, Tennessee's sensational All-America tailback, drew votes for three different games against Kentucky, Auburn, Tennessee and Duke.

Other's who were named include:

Jim Podoley's six touchdowns for Central Michigan against Eastern Illinois. All America halfback Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma drew support for his games against Notre Dame and Texas and Notre Dame back Paul Hornung vs North Carolina.

Deer Season Begins In All Ohio Counties

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For the first time in 56 years deer may be shot in any county of Ohio to day—provided the hunter has a special $5 license and a shotgun loaded with a slug or pumpkin ball.

The statewide deer-hunting season opens at 9 a. m. and continues through Saturday. Hunting must cease at 5 p. m. each day.

A remarkable comeback of the whitetail deer—the state's deer population now is estimated at 34,500—has made the statewide hunting season possible this year, the state division of wildlife says.

Except in Scioto and Adams County—where bucks only may be taken—Ohio hunters are permitted to bag one deer of either sex.

The wildlife division stresses that deer hunting with rifles is prohibited. Archers may use bows of any pull and barbed arrows.

The required $5 deer-hunting license is in addition to the regular 1956 hunting license.

Redlegs Fail To Add Pitcher

Tebbetts Says Team To Use Present Staff

CHICAGO (AP)—Cincinnati's Redlegs failed to find a trade here for the front-line pitcher they want, but Manager Birdie Tebbetts said Tuesday night the team may make do with what they have.

Tebbetts, leaving the annual major league meeting for Cincinnati, said, "I can't say I'm not disappointed that we made no deals during the baseball meetings to strengthen our club."

"But neither can I say I'm discouraged about going to spring training with the players I have on our roster right now."

Tebbetts, who guided the Reds to third place in the National League last season, said he thinks Redleg pitching may be better. He said Brooks Lawrence may not be as "sensational" as last season when he won his first 13 games straight, "but I am confident that he'll win 19 games again and maybe a few more."

The Redleg pilot said that Joe Nuxhall is expected to have a better season than in 1956. "But don't forget," Tebbetts said, "Big Joe was plagued by a long series of injuries."

"I also look for (Johnny) Klippstein, (Hal) Jeffcoat and (Art) Fowler to have better seasons. And no one will dispute the fact that my guy (Herschel) Freeman was the best relief pitcher in the game last season."

He said that improvement is looked for from Tom Acker and Don Gross, and from former Chicago Cub Warren Hacker.

Tebbetts said Alex Grammas will likely hold down third base. "At least he is at the moment," he said. "I think Alex is the best defensive third baseman in the league."

The Redleg manager, whose home is in New Hampshire, is going to Cincinnati for presentation Thursday night of the City Exchange Club's "man of the year" award.

N. Waterford Scores 4th Season Win

New Waterford scored its fourth win of the season Tuesday when it defeated North Beaver Township 76-68 at New Waterford. The Trojans have one loss.

Ron Seachrist and Dewane Brown scored more than half of New Waterford's points. Seachrist tallied 22 markers and Brown, 18.

Bill Kurell was high point scorer for the losers with 21 points. New Waterford assumed a 25-17 first quarter lead and outscored its opponents in the second and third frames, 19-12 and 18-15. Each of the teams netted 14 markers in the final stanza.

The New Waterford reserves also won the preliminary game 16-13.

The Trojans will meet Salineville there Friday.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. I. LIDE

Today being the first day of deer season, the hunter lucky enough to bag a deer certainly receives a big dividend for the $5 permit plus a $2 hunting license and fees totaling $7.50. The conservative estimate of the value of a deer would run around $50.

Not only that, but considering the number of rabbits taken along with pheasants and a few grouse thrown in, the consistent hunter received excellent returns for so small a fee.

Figure for yourself how you made out. Pheasants are worth at least $2 each, although it costs more than that to raise them from release. Rabbits are worth $1 each. Plenty of hunters bagged 6 pheasants or more along with a dozen rabbits.

Maybe you were not so lucky but plenty of other fellows were. And don't forget the fun you are having that cannot be judged in dollars and cents.

I have heard of three deer being taken by the archers, the largest being a ten-point buck that was taken by a hunter from Findlay. The game protector from that section sent me a clipping from the Findlay newspaper. The deer was supposed to have been taken south of Lisbon.

SHOOTING HOURS for deer begin at 9 a.m. and end 5 p.m. Saturday.

Hunters should be extra careful not to tear down the farmers fence and never dress out a deer in a pasture field. Remember you are supposed to be a guest and not a pest during hunting season.

Ducks are also legal quarry until Dec. 22 when the season ends one-half hour before sundown.

Ed Ferko, Georgetown Road, bagged a rare duck, an old squaw, last week. Also one canvas back, a hen mallard and a ruddy drake. As long as there is open water there will be a few flight ducks on the move. I observed 5 canvas backs and two coot on the Salem reservoir last Saturday.

I have been told that when preparing a duck for the oven, instead of using the conventional dressing, to stuff them with sauerkraut. Sounds O.K. since some ducks are inclined to have a fishy taste anyway.

I ran across Jess Howell of Columbiana Saturday, out after fox as usual. Jess has one of the most vigorous fox hounds I have ever seen hit the trail.

He reports a large number of "kit" foxes. He says these little North Lima jumped off to a 17-10 first quarter lead but the Clippers overhauled and passed their opponents to lead 30-22 at the end of the half. Columbiana padded its lead in the third period 46-36 and coasted to an easy victory in the final stanza.

Bill Russell was high scorer for the Clippers with 19 points. Wetter and Brintzenhofe each tallied 14 markers for North Lima.

Texas Fears 'Incident,' Won't Call Wilkinson

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Chairman Tom Sealy of the University of Texas Board of Regents said Tuesday Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson hasn't been contacted about the coaching vacancy at Texas and, despite Wilkinson's terrific record, Sealy said he didn't think it would be a good idea.

"I think if we did contact Bud it would provoke an international incident," he said, "kind of like another war between the states."

Oklahoma and Texas have an intense football rivalry, despite the Sooners' superiority in recent years.

Goshen Whips Greenford 67-33

Goshen High School's basketball offensive, powered by the scoring of Hayes Covert and Ed Wilson, easily pushed aside the defensive thrusts of Greenford's Bobcats last night at Goshen 67-33.

Covert pumped in 21 points with an effective jump shot from the side and front while Wilson garnered most of his 20 markers on close in shots. Jerry Hendrick had 16 for the losers.

Wilson got the Gophers off to a 2-0 lead which they never relinquished although Greenford's Hendricks tied the score at 2-2 seconds later. From here the home five shot into a commanding 19-7 first quarter lead.

It became apparent in the second frame that the height advantage of Wilson and Wayne Walter paid off for the victors as they consistently pulled rebounds off the boards from their shorter opponents. Goshen scored 20 points in the second quarter with Covert and Wilson getting 18 between them.

The Gophers kept right on with their scoring as the third quarter started with them ahead, 35-15. Again it was Covert doing most of the damage in this stanza as he hit for 9 of his team's 16 points. Although trailing at one time in the next to last frame by over 30 points, Greenford continued to remain in their defensive 2-1-2 zone. They didn't turn to playing man to man defense till the last period.

Coach Joe Tucker of Goshen cleared his bench in the fourth quarter and the subs played their opponents on exactly even terms as both squads dumped in an even dozen markers in the last period.

The contest was marked by tough play throughout. Greenford's Dave Hiner was knocked down once, stopping the game and Goshen's Roger Wyss was forced to leave the game because of an injured ankle.

The victory brought the Gophers' slate to 2-1 while Greenford's is now 3-3 for the year.

N. C. State Suffers Upset To Clemson

By ED WILKS
By The Associated Press
Things are tough all over in college basketball. First Louisville, then Kentucky were knocked off and now North Carolina State has come a cropper in a topsy-turvy three nights for the suspected "powers."

Louisville was chilled 76-74 by Canisius Saturday. Kentucky was spilled 71-70 by St. Louis Monday. Tuesday night, N.C. State, ranked eighth in the first Associated Press poll of the season, took the rap with a 96-94 overtime defeat by Clemson, an infrequent winner.

The Tigers hadn't beaten State since 1941.

Southern Methodist and Alabama, the only other top 10 members in action, stayed unbeaten with ease.

SMU, rated No. 5, topped Wichita 83-70. 'Bama, No. 9, rapped little Howard (Ala.), 109-88.

Clemson counted 10 points in the last 3 minutes to gain an 86-81 deadlock at the end of the regulation time with eight points scored by Vince Yockel, who was the high scorer with 31. Bill Yarbrough sank four consecutive free throws to break things open for Clemson in the overtime.

John Maglio scored 23 and Bob Seitz 22 for the Wolfpack, who seldom led while losing for the first time in four starts.

Jim Krebs, showing no effects of an ankle injury, scored 31 points for SMU as the unbeaten Mustangs led all the way in gaining their fourth victory. Alabama, averaging 106 points a game in rolling up a 4-0 record over small colleges, had a two-way scoring punch in Jack Kubiszyn with 27, and Jim Fulmeier with 26.

Penalties Hurt Matson's Average

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rick Casares and Ollie Matson probably will remember a pair of penalties when the final figures are added up in the battle for National Football League ground gaining honors.

Casares led Matson by a single yard before the two met head-on Sunday in a rough and tumble battle between the Chicago Bears and Chicago Cards, won by the Bears, 10-3. When the dust cleared, Casares had picked up 117 yards and Matson 26. Penalties, however, deprived Matson of a pair of touchdowns runs, one for 65 and the other 83 yards.

Thus, with one game left for each player, Casares of the Bears has 936 yards on 217 attempts for a 4.3 average, and Matson 844 yards on 170 carries for a 5-yard

North Names Potent Senior Bowl Squad

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Record-cracking backs Lenny Dawson and Jim Crawford head a speedy 25-man North squad named today for the Jan. 5 Senior Bowl Game.

The Bowl's first sellout of 36,000 is expected when the handpicked stars meet a similar South team in Ladd Stadium.

Crawford set Skyline Conference records in pacing Wyoming to an undefeated season. He was the top rusher in major colleges this season with 1,104 yards in 200 tries, and scored 96 points.

The Washington Redskins' Joe Kuharich will replace the Detroit Lions' Buddy Parker as Yankee coach. The previously named South team will again be directed by Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns.

Winning team members receive $500 each, the loser $400. The South has a 4-3 edge in the series.

Seixas Hurt; Davis Cup Hopes Dwindle

PERTH, Australia (AP)—America's already almost impossible Davis Cup hopes received another jolt today when veteran Vic Seixas turned up with a shoulder ailment which may keep him out of both the interzone and challenge round matches.

Seixas turned up with the ailment in practice today and said it was so painful he could hardly hit a backhand.

Captain Bill Talbert, who had nominated Seixas and Herbie Flam for Friday's opening interzone singles against India, said he still hoped to use Vic, but would wait the outcome of an examination.

Talbert said he was not overly worried about the injury and believed it to be minor. He said Seixas, who is 33, had come up with similar injuries before and thrown them off.

If unable to play, Seixas will be replaced by Sam Giammalva of Houston.

Matches are scheduled Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The victors qualify to challenge Australia for the Davis Cup at Adelaide Dec. 26-28.

Blue Devils Blasted 67-47 By Wellsville

Wellsville handed Lisbon a setback 68-47 Tuesday night in the first game of the year for the Blue Devils. The contest was played at Wellsville.

Wellsville jumped off to an 18-10 first quarter lead and increased its margin in every succeeding frame. The scores were 34-24 at the half and 46-33 at the three-quarter mark.

George Ramsey was high scorer for Lisbon with 26 markers. Bowling tallied 23 for the winners and Rolley, 21.

The Lisbon Reserves lost the preliminary contest of the night 35-31.

Lisbon's next game will be a week from Friday when the Blue Devils meet the Goshen Gophers at Lisbon.

Ex-Con Man Says Today's Swindlers Are Too Cruel

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Oldtime confidence man Joseph (Yellow Kid) Weil has told a Senate subcommittee that today's swindlers are too cruel.

The 82-year-old reformed patriarch of the con game was the star witness Tuesday as the Senate subcommittee investigating juvenile delinquency opened hearings. Nattily dressed in tweeds and with a white beard parted in the middle, Weil spoke with scorn of present-day confidence rings which recruit young girls as decoys to bilk elderly victims of life savings.

"I've heard the words confidence game batted around here today," Weil said, "but these people went out and destroyed everything about these old people."

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) is chairman of the subcommittee and was the only member present.

Now out of jail for 15 years, Weil said he has reformed and thinks his crime career was "deplorable and contemptible." He said he cleaned up about eight million dollars in his day.

The Chicago man told Kefauver that con artists traditionally left their victims at least some money. "We old-timers never sent a man to the river," he said. "If a man had $800,000, I'd be satisfied with $50,000 or $100,000."

Weil told how he once "conned" a man worth $825,000 into betting $50,000 on a fixed fight.

"At the end of the fifth round, with the man who was supposed to win way ahead, we put a rubber ball with chicken blood in his mouth," Weil said.

"In the next round he collapsed, bit down on the rubber ball and the blood came squirting out of his mouth."

"It looked like he was hemorrhaging. We had a doctor pronounce him dead and collected the $50,000 bet."

Weil urged limits on the amount of cash that can be withdrawn from a bank at one time as a curb on confidence rackets.

He said the "pigeon drop" racket is the "illegitimate child of the old time big con."

In that scheme, two confederates show the victim money they claim to have found. The victim, to share in the find, puts up collateral as a token of good faith and the confederates disappear with all the cash.

One witness, testifying under the name "Mrs. Jane Dickenson," said the man operating the racket recruit only girls like herself who fall in love with them.

"They get you feeling that way so you will turn in all your money," she said.

Israel Leaving Sinai Peninsula

Yugoslav Troops Advance Into Area

TEL AVIV (AP)—The Israeli army has withdrawn the bulk of its troops from the Sinai Peninsula. Some units remain as covering forces for the final phases of the pull-out.

The withdrawal is being timed to mesh with the movement eastward from the Suez Canal of Yugoslav troops of the emergency force.

The Yugoslav advance has been slowed by Israeli-land minefields and roads blown up on the western side of the peninsula.

An Israeli government spokesman said he had no confirmation of Egyptian press reports that Egyptian troops are following the Yugoslav forces into Sinai.

"We envisage Sinai as an international area occupied by an international force. There could also be an Egyptian force there but it would not be a threatening force as long as the international troops are present."

Group Urges JP's Be Paid According To Work Schedule

A plan for paying justices of the peace fixing salaries based on work load rather than salaries fixed by county commissioners was approved Tuesday by the Ohio Magistrates Assn., meeting in Columbus.

The plan calls for a system of classifying JP's according to fines and fees collected. Salaries would range from $500 to $8,000 a year.

R. E. Iden, of Homeworth, Columbiana County justice and chairman of the magistrate committee, said the plan will be offered at the next meeting of the County Commissioners Assn. of Ohio for that organization's endorsement.

After that, it would be presented to the General Assembly in January, Iden said.

He said the plan was drawn up after Belmont County Common Pleas Judge Clifford Belt ruled last Friday that county commissioners have no constitutional authority to fix salaries of JP's. That system, in effect since last January, replaced the old fee system of paying JP's.

HEADS N. A. M. Ernest G. Swigert (above) is president-elect of the National Association of Manufacturers. He is from Portland, Ore.

Hearings Continue On Unfair Labor Acts In Phone Strike

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—National Labor Relations Board hearings continue here today on alleged unfair labor practices by the striking Communications Workers of America (CWA).

Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. has charged that the union "restrained and coerced employees of the telephone company in violation of rights guaranteed by the Taft-Hartley Law, used force, violence, impeding or preventing ingress and egress of the employer's supervisors from the employer's premises and threatening to destroy company property."

CWA has been on strike against the company since last July 15. The company closed its telephone exchanges here Oct. 15 after a series of stoning of company facilities and cable cuttings. The union has denied responsibility for the violence.

At the hearing, which opened Tuesday, Robert Arnett, 23-year-old president of the CWA local here, said the local last July 9 voted 112-0 to strike "after the management and the union could not get together on a contract agreement."

Arnett testified that certain rules for picketing were posted in the union's meeting hall but that he did not know their entire contents.

Examiner C. W. Whittemore of Washington, D. C., is presiding over the hearing on charges the union made 26 violations of the labor act between the time the strike began and the Portsmouth exchanges were closed.

Meanwhile, company President Clare E. Williams is studying a request by Portsmouth and state officials that the exchanges be re-expected, to be concluded Saturday.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche proposed to send enough state highway patrolmen here to police the city and free local police for duty in preventing strike violence.

Col. George Mingle, superintendent of the patrol, said his organization has "full authority" to supplement local police in law enforcement. However, it does not have authority to intervene in strike violence, he said.

INDICTED FOR MURDER

CLEVELAND (AP)—Warren Bayless, 20-year-old son of a Cleveland police lieutenant, was indicted Tuesday on a second degree murder charge in the fatal stabbing of Joseph Walford, 19, of Mentor-on-the-Lake in a fight.

Atlanta Teachers Reject Integration

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Public School Teachers Assn. voted unanimously Monday night to withdraw from the American Federation of Teachers at the end of this year rather than admit Negroes to membership.

Announcement of the decision was made by Roger Derthick, association president and brother of Dr. Lawrence Derthick of Chattanooga, Tenn., who recently was appointed U.S. commissioner of education by President Eisenhower.

Derthick said the association unanimously adopted a resolution which will take the 1,853 members out of the national organization Dec. 31, 1956, and end a labor tieup which has existed since 1919.

The action came after both Atlanta Local No. 69 and Fulton County Local No. 183 were told by the American Federation of Teachers, an AFL-CIO affiliate, that they would have to integrate Negroes into their membership or stand expelled as of Dec. 31, 1957.

Court Rules Unions Can't Be Deprived of Taft Law Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that unions may not be deprived of benefits under the Taft-Hartley Labor Act because one of their officers files a false non-Communist affidavit.

Justices Douglas delivered the opinion which held that the only penalty provided is a fine and prison sentence for the union officer.

Speaking for the entire court, Douglas said:

"We cannot find an additional sanction which in practical effect would run against the members of the union, not their guilty officers."

"That was the (National Labor Relations) Board's original position, and we think it is the correct one."

The court ruled today on two appeals stemming from cases in which the NLRB took opposite positions.

In one the NLRB originally had sought enforcement of an unfair labor practice order against the Lannom Manufacturing Co., of Tullahoma, Tenn., in behalf of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America. The union was the successor by merger to the International Fur and Leather Workers Union.

The U. S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati turned down the NLRB. The circuit court said the charge against Lannom was filled by a union that had not complied with the non-Communist affidavit requirement of the labor act.

This finding was based on the conviction of Ben Gold for falsely swearing that he no longer was a member of the Communist party. Gold, a former president of the fur workers, has an appeal pending before the Supreme Court, asking reversal of his conviction. Amalgamated appealed to the Supreme Court to overturn the circuit court's decision.

The other, more recent appeal was filed by the NLRB itself, asking reversal of a decision by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia. The court of appeals said the filing of a false non-Communist affidavit does not bar a union from T-H benefits. It also said the board was not empowered to investigate the veracity of such oaths.

The board's appeal was in a case affecting the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. On Feb. 1, 1955 the board found non-Communist affidavits filed by Maurice Travis, secretary-treasurer of the union, were false and that the membership knew they were false. The board said that because of the affidavits the union was not in compliance with labor act requirements and therefore was not entitled to benefits of the act.

Travis resigned from the union office on Feb. 23, 1955 and was succeeded by another officer who filed the required affidavit. The board said the union thus complied with the act, but it said this did not nullify the appeal because benefits accorded to the union on the basis of Travis's affidavits would be subject to cancellation if the board's decomplication order were sustained.

Douglas said there was "no indication that Congress meant to impose on a union the drastic penalty of decomplication because its officers had deceived the union as well as the board by filling a false affidavit."
